

News Release

For Immediate Release – May 2, 2017

Contact: Jeri Trainor, Prevention Programs Coordinator, 238-1375
Cynthia Fenech, Communications Coordinator, 238-1704

Stanislaus County Leadership Academy to Participate in Managing Your Life Day

Students participating in the Stanislaus County Leadership Academy will meet on Friday, May 5, 2017 for Managing Your Life Day. Entrepreneur Dan Costa will share his success and challenges with the students before they learn about the dangers of alcohol and marijuana from Behavioral Health & Recovery Services and how the laws change when they turn 18 from The Superior Court of California in Stanislaus County. Modesto Police will finish the day by presenting Predictive Policing, K-9 and SWAT demonstrations, CSI crime lab tour and hands-on Force Option Simulator participation for all.

Stanislaus County Office of Education's Prevention Programs Department oversees the Leadership Academy Program. Students representing schools throughout the county meet one day each month throughout the school year. They learn about emerging community issues, are provided opportunities to expand their knowledge of academics and work ethics, and gain an awareness of local career availability. One of the goals of Leadership Academy is to raise awareness of careers available locally to students after they graduate from college or trade school.

For more information, contact Jeri Trainor at (209)238-1375 or jtrainor@stancoe.org

